One-Pager Project Brief: Champions for Peaceful Community (CPC)

Problem Statement Communities in Kenya's South Rift face rising conflict, crime, and generational divides, leaving youth vulnerable and trust in leadership broken.

Our Solution Champions for Peaceful Community (CPC) identifies, trains, and supports morally upright youth and adults as peace ambassadors, engaging communities through clean-ups, sports, cultural events, and service to the elderly.

Key Components - Selection of 10 champions per community with input from local leaders - Monthly stipends to sustain community activities - Community clean-ups, sports tournaments, and cultural events - Visitation to the elderly and vulnerable groups - Interfaith fellowships to foster unity and trust

Impact Snapshot - 50+ champions trained in the first year across 5 communities - Direct engagement with 10,000+ community members - Strengthened trust between youth, elders, and leaders - Reduction in local conflicts and increased collaboration across generations

Budget Snapshot - $10,000 supports 12 champions for one year - $1,000 funds a community-wide peace event - $500 covers stipends and activity kits for champions monthly

How You Can Partner - Support stipends and training for community champions - Fund peacebuilding events or sports tournaments - Offer mentorship, training, or interfaith dialogue support
